Separate School Board to appeal court award on architect's fees

The St. Albert Separate Protestant School Board will appeal a decision by Mr. Justice W. J. C. Kirby which it claims has set a legal precedent.

Mr. Justice Kirby recently awarded Edmonton architect Blake Pratt 80 per cent of his fee for designs for an addition to Leo Nickerson elementary school which in 1966 the board had rejected as impractical.

He awarded Mr. Pratt 80 per cent of six per cent of the lowest tender, which was $268,896 including fees but excluding furnishings and site work. The award gave Mr. Pratt approximately $13,000.

Mr. Justice Kirby also upheld a counterclaim by the board and, citing Mr. Pratt for negligence, awarded the board $3,000 damages.

Charles Schroder, board chairman, said the board considers the appeal to be a test case as Mr. Justice Kirby's decision will have an effect on board-architect relationships throughout Alberta.

He said the case will establish the relationship between boards and architects determining the areas of responsibility, in Alberta and possibly all of Canada.

The school retained Mr. Pratt in 1966 to design an addition to Leo Nickerson school. He estimated it would cost $223,254, but when the tenders were opened the lowest was $9.59 per cent above that figure.

Mr. Justice Kirby said when an architect is lost more than five per cent, his client can require him to revise his drawings or negotiate with the contractor to cut back the cost. He stressed, however, that the onus was on the board to bring this about. The St. Albert School Board, Mr. Justice Kirby said, did not see fit to exercise this right.

The board had later hired another architect to design the addition and it was completed last year.

Mr. Justice Kirby said

Mr. Pratt's conduct in the matter amounted to negligence because he:

Did not consult any other architect, even his own partner, in preparing estimates; Did not try to communicate with any of the general contractors with whom he would be expected to deal; Did not contact any other school board in the district

Charges pending in vandalism spree

Charges will be laid against seven boys as a result of investigation by the St. Albert detachment of the RCMP into a rash of vandalism in Grandin Park.

All under 16, the boys will appear in juvenile court here Dec. 19.

One is being held in preventive detention until the court appearance.

Sgt. Ken Williams, head of the St. Albert detachment, said the charges will contain 10 instances of tire slashing.

Some of the boys will also face charges in connection with the shooting out of the windows in a private garage by means of an air rifle. Cpl. Stan Fooks was in charge of the investigation.

D. A. Kenny (centre) was installed as master of Balmoral Lodge No. 185 A. F. and A. M. at ceremonies in the Lodge rooms in the basement of St. Albert United Church on Dec. 4. Other officers installed for the coming year were W. W. Lowrie (left), senior warden, and H. McIlveen, junior warden.

Steve Bennett, a driver of an Eaton's of Canada delivery van may be getting the feeling that disaster is following him around. Last week his vehicle took off without him, smashing into a parked car before ending up in a yard on Belmont Drive, Tuesday morning he was having a quiet cup of coffee in the Bruin Inn Coffee Shop when an Avon representative came calling, without bothering to get out of her car. The brakes of the vehicle apparently failed as she pulled in to park and the late-model car jumped the curb and rammed into the door and wall of the coffee shop. The car suffered only slight damage, the Bruin Inn at least a couple of hundred dollars.

Survey will determine home service need

Six St. Albert women are conducting a survey to find out how much need there is for a "home help service" in the community.

The six, who have set themselves up as a steering committee, are convinced that there are many homes in this area that would take advantage of and gain benefit from such an organization.

The committee, with Mrs. Dorothy R. Lien as acting chairman, includes Mrs. Susan Vanderstraten, Mrs. Marion Fyfe, Mrs. Sephke Nymeyer, Mrs. Stephanie Hrynew and Mrs. Louise Rasmussen.

Their questionnaire asks if residents think a "home help service" is needed?

It lists the following areas of service that could be offered and asks people to check the ones they feel are important.

- 1) Assistance in home and child care during illness, convalescence, etc.
- 2) Home management assistance (budgeting of money and time, meal planning, etc.)
- 3) Part-time help to assist with the housework.
- 4) Baby-sitting service.
- 5) Visitation to those confined at home.
- 6) Transportation in emergencies.

It also asks for further suggestions any one may have.

The plan is common in England and many Scandinavian countries.

Mrs. Lien said the committee hopes the women of St. Albert will co-operate in determining the extent of need of such a service.

She said the basic concept of the plan is to help keep families together and help prevent the breakdown of the family unit.

17 take Christopher course

Seventeen persons received graduation certificates as a banquet and evening of fun in the Roman Catholic Church basement Saturday officially signalled the end of the 10-week Christopher leadership course.

Paul Shelemey, Bud Gau and Morley Brown were instructors for the course.

Father Colin Levangie was spiritual leader and Lucile Monroe was secretary.

The aim of the Christopher course which combines public speaking with the teaching of true Christian attitudes, is to help all people of good will, regardless of nationality, color or creed, in their efforts to make a better world.

The United Church Women this year are sponsoring a large Congregational Christmas Card. The idea is that instead of sending individual Christmas cards to friends, the congregation sends Christmas wishes by signing this large card. Money which would otherwise be spent on cards and postage is put in a collection box. The UCW plans to buy a vacuum cleaner for the church with money collected. Shown with the card are Mrs. K. Moore, Mrs. E. Robinson and Mrs. L. Musto.

Teen-agers hootenany big success

A film and hootenany sponsored by the St. Albert High School Movers and the Interfaith Teen Committee of St. Albert last Sunday was well attended.

Approximately 150 teens were involved in the viewing and discussion of the film "Phoebe" at Father Jan School.

The hootenany was held in the Roman Catholic Church Hall with performers from St. Albert High, Paul Kane and Holy Redeemer College.

Ministers and priests from St. Albert also attended the functions.

George Simpson Junior High School participated in a 15 mile walk around St. Albert last October. Students were sponsored for varying amounts per mile, with proceeds going to the Inter School Christian Fellowship. Mrs. Jobe, secretary at the school, has just completed totalling the donations and tells us the students marched to the tune of just over $330. Mrs. Jobe said the money raising event was the boys and girls own idea. Monies received got towards salaries for ISCF staff. The organization has no means of support.

The St. Albert United Church Triple M group turned out in full force for a skating party held Sunday afternoon at the Grandin Rink. The Junior Choir were guests at the event which saw some 83 young people and 40 adults put on the blades. Afterwards, everyone was invited down to the church where hot chocolate and hot dogs soon thawed out chilly skaters.

Band Concert

Eighty-four young musicians will present a varied program including popular Tijuana-style music to traditional Christmas songs at the George Simpson Junior High School, Monday, Dec. 16th at 7:30 p.m.

The St. Albert Separate Protestant School Bands are directed by Jerry Wennes. Everyone is invited to this evening of informal entertainment.

Hamper Bureau deadline near

Christmas is a wonderful time of year . . . the traditional carols, friends coming to call, the festive tree and the excitement of the young and young at heart when unwrapping that special gift . . .

For many families, however, Christmas is a time of despair, a time of feeling left out and forgotten.

Who are these people and where are they? They are right here in St. Albert and surrounding district and, through various reasons, they lack the resources to make a happy Christmas. Some of them are unemployed. Some are widowed or separated and have a large family to care for. Others are senior citizens, making do on small pensions, hardly adequate for life's bare necessities. These people are your neighbors!

Again this year, through the St. Albert Kinetite's Christmas Hamper Bureau, you can show you care.

Last year, the Bureau sent out 34 hampers to less fortunate families, and indications are at least that number will be required this Christmas.

Please, send your donations now to the St. Albert Kinetite Christmas Hamper Bureau. Gifts of canned foods, staples, new or next to new toys and candy for the youngsters will be greatly appreciated. Cash donations will also be gratefully accepted.

Bring your donations to 10 Granite Ave. or phone Mrs. Pollard at 599-6921. Thank you for giving to others.

ARTS & CRAFTS GUILD

Most of the classes sponsored by the Arts and Crafts Guild finish their ten-week session this week. There have been Christmas wind-up parties planned for many of the classes and these are proving a huge success. Last Saturday the young people in the Saturday morning ceramics class put their parents to the test and invited them to a pot-making contest using the potters' wheel. Urged on by their off-spring (who lent a helping hand now and then) the parents met the challenge and acquitted themselves remarkably well. Mr. Kshol, father of Neil, ran off with a brilliant first for a pot 6-1/2 inches high. Mr. Barker, father of Kim, was second for the best design while Karen's mother, Mrs. Jackson, won the booby prize. The Arts Centre fairly rocked with activity and both children and parents had a wonderful time.

The next session of classes will start during the week of Jan. 20 and registration will be held on Jan. 18 at the Arts Centre. Watch the Gazette for further information in the New Year.

A great deal was accomplished last Saturday by the work party which turned out to help put the finishing touches to the Arts Centre. Mr. L. Schack and his band of helpers got much needed shelves built in the ceramics and craft rooms. The assistance given by the fathers of children attending the Guild's classes is much appreciated.

MEN'S SOCCER
The training sessions which have been held in St. George Simpson Junior High School have been suspended for the Christmas season. They will resume on Jan. 10.

The figure skating and learn-to-skate classes will start this coming Saturday, Dec. 14. They will run each Saturday for 10 weeks excluding Dec. 28. The classes at the Grosvenor Park Rink will be held from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and the Salisbury Park Rink from 12:30 to 2:30. Power skating will start at Braeside Rink on Jan. 4, 1969; the time will be announced later.

Choir will offer varied program

The St. Albert Singers are putting the finishing touches on their program "A Family Christmas Choral," to be presented this Sunday, Dec. 15th at 7:30 p.m. in the Assembly Hall of St. George Simpson Junior High School.

This community choir of 35 voices is directed by Lillian Upright, who will also be accompanying at the piano.

Featured soloists are Diane Conway, soprano and John Liney, tenor.

Three Christmas arrangements by Bach will open the program, followed by several carols and community singing of carols. Flor Peeter's psalm "Sing to God With Gladness" will conclude the program.

No admission will be charged, but a collection will be received to defray the expenses involved and assist in providing music for forthcoming programs of the St. Albert Singers.

the Gazette REFLECTS

from your fire chief

The Social Credit "swinging" convention is over and Albertans wish their new leader, Mr. Harry Strom, all success in meeting the challenge of the big job ahead of him.

Mr. Strom will bring his own thinking and ideas to the task and some changes in administration may be expected. He has come to the leadership with the strong backing of his party.

The 27,000 residents of Sturgeon Hospital District have reason to hope that steps may be taken to ensure that the kind of treatment they recently suffered at the hands of a civil servant in the Department of Health will not occur again.

Remarks of the deputy minister of health services as a guest at the official sod turning ceremony of the new hospital in St. Albert seemed to us inexcusable.

Mr. J. D. Campbell is not an elected representative of the people he was addressing. He is ineffect if their hired employee and responsible to the elected Minister of Health. It is therefore difficult to understand by what process of reasoning he could justify his flat statement that he had opposed this hospital project from its conception, and had put every block in its way that he could.

Should a civil servant in any government department be in a position to put blocks in the way of any program approved by a cabinet minister? Unless his sod-turning speech was condoned by the Minister, it seems to us that he didn't have the right (and shouldn't have had the nerve) to make such a statement on such an auspicious occasion.

The sod-turning of our new hospital was a long awaited and happy event for the people of this area, many of whom had worked and planned for years for this day.

Are they second-class citizens to be treated so rudely? Are they to believe there is no need for this hospital, when they had to wait a year and longer for a child's tonsillectomy? When the doctors practising among them have restricted hospital privileges? When 100 beds are being made available for a district population which requires now 150 beds (according to the yardstick of 5.5 beds per thousand capita used by the province)? When our elected Hospital Board submitted four sets of plans in an effort to co-operate in any way possible with the Department of Health?

Dr. J. Donovan Ross has stated he will not seek another term of office so our new leader will be working with a new minister in the health department. Perhaps a "new broom" approach will have a beneficial effect.

Boards to ask for community college

St. Albert's two school boards are preparing to ask the provincial government to locate a community college proposed for the Edmonton area in or near the town.

They will approach the government after the turn of the year and after their chairmen, Charles Schroder of the separate protestant system and Dave Fraser of the public system, have met with Mayor Ray Gibbon to plan their line of attack.

The boards decided on the move at a joint meeting last week.

Kinettes launch course

The St. Albert Kinettes Club is inviting registrations for a public speaking course to be held every second Thursday evening at the Clubhouse on Grenfell Avenue, commencing Thursday, Jan. 9th at 8 p.m.

The two-hour sessions will run for seven weeks and will be conducted by Mrs. M. Costuras of the Edmonton Toast Mistresses Club.

The boards also decided that Dr. J. W. Chalmers, superintendent of the separate system, and Vincent Maloney, superintendent of the public system, should meet periodically to see if the two school systems can co-operate at the high school level to avoid costly duplication of services.

The boards feel costs in equipment and staff can be cut by offering instruction jointly in courses that have a small enrolment in each school.

The course will touch on such topics as parliamentary procedure, which should be of special interest to club women, the introduction and thanking of speakers and how to evaluate fellow speakers and prepare a four to five minute talk.

Enrollment has had to be limited to 40 ladies and anyone interested should contact Mrs. W. Hite at 599-6131.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1968

Fire Chief Fred Tetarenko has appealed to the citizens of St. Albert to take extra precautions regarding fire in the home now that winter is about to set in.

He is especially concerned about the holiday season. He says extra precautions are necessary at this time of year because heating appliances can be overworked and so many decorations and lights are used during the Christmas season.

Chief Tetarenko suggests that if you have not checked and cleaned your furnace recently, that you do it now. An unclean furnace does not function properly and there is a possibility that the motor will burn out.

"With so many extra lights for decoration, make sure that you do not overload your circuits," the chief warns. "Check your cords to make sure they are in good condition. Never leave your tree lights on when you retire or when you go out for the evening."

He suggests that the tree be placed in water and the lights on it checked for proven working order. A short circuit could result in a fire.

"And always check for smoldering cigarette butts after company leaves," Chief Tetarenko says. "A spark from a burning cigarette butt in a chair or chandelier is a potential killer. Too many people die from asphyxiation by smoke and gases from fire. Don't let it happen to you."

Any questions citizens have pertaining to fire safety phone 599-7021 or if after hours 599-3714.

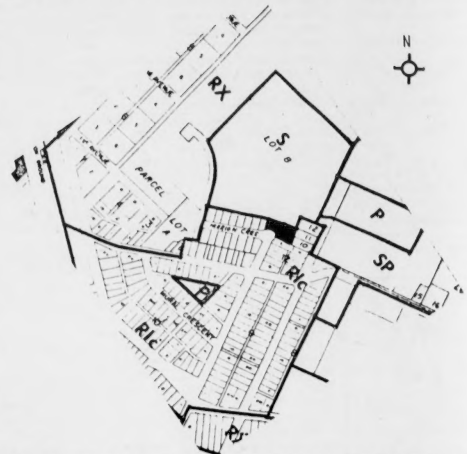

In case of fire phone 599-7777.

"Merry Christmas and Happy New Year," the chief closes on behalf of his staff. "let it be prosperous and fire free."

Edmonton to get Canadian Artists Exhibitions

The Vincent Massey bequest will be at the Gallery until Dec. 22.

This collection consists of 92 Canadian paintings from the estate of the late Right Honorable Vincent Massey, left to the National Gallery of Canada. Originally, these paintings were contained in his home, Batterwood, near Port Credit, Ont. The collection, through his wishes, now travels across Canada promoting Canadian artists.

The exhibition contains many of the Group of Seven's works as well as such famous Canadian painters as David Milne, James Wilson
Morrice and Emily Carr.
Unequaled for quality anywhere in the country, this collection was chosen for the love of each individual's work rather than with the desire for full representation.

On the mall

The Edmonton Aphasic
Association will be selling raffle tickets on a Candy House, Thursday and Friday evening, Dec. 12 and 13.

A major artistic event occurred when the Massey's encountered the then aspiring artist David Milne and through this connection bought the entire contents of his studio in 1934 - some 250 works.

Always willing to aid young Canadian artists, the Masseys' provided studio space at Durham House on the Massey property. This housed such artists as Will Ogilvie and Pegi Nicol.

This collection is a lasting memorial to one who had an abiding love of Canada - Vincent Massey.

David Milne's 30 war sketches form part of the Canadian War Memorial collection now housed in the National Gallery of Canada.

The collection was originally headed by Lord Beaverbrook, and its purpose was to record by means of the graphic arts the exploits of Canadians in the Great War and areas which were of historic importance.
In all, the Canadian War Memorial collection has 111 paintings completed by Milne of camps and training areas in England, France and Belgium as an official war artist.

Milne's sketches reveal the aftermath of war, never its horror. The battlefields, views of military camps and towns are depicted in an elegant, tasteful and clean manner.

The Milne war sketches will be at the Edmonton Art Gallery until Jan. 5.

"Irma" is in town

"Star studded" are the only words to describe the season's third production at The Citadel Theatre - the most delightful musical comedy "Irma La Douce."
Louis Lomax, distinguished product of the Royal Opera House, Stockholm, is the guest director; musical direction is by Lou Sailer and choreographer is Robert Van Norman.

"Irma La Douce" stars
Daphne Gibson, Eric House and Robin Ward, all Canadian actors of international repute.

The production has already provoked a heavy advance booking at The Citadel and as it will play throughout the entire holiday season in Edmonton, promises to provide patrons with the brightest entertainment in town.

THIS NUMBER REPRESENTS CREDIT UNION

SAVINGS OF $10 A MONTH FOR 10 YEARS

INCLUDING DIVIDENDS

■ The abacus has been a most accurate and speedy calculating aid for centuries. Yet, to arrive at the number illustrated above you would have to give this widely used instrument additional information. Otherwise, an abacus would show that savings of $10 a month for 10 years amount to $1,200 rather than the right answer of $1,514.40. WHY? Because an abacus would not know that many credit unions pay members an average dividend of 4 1/2%. WHEN IT COMES TO FINANCIAL SECURITY, YOUR CREDIT UNION IS ALWAYS THE RIGHT ANSWER. Here are some of the services most credit unions offer: Low-cost Loans - Convenient Savings Facilities - Attractive Dividends - Loan Protection and Life Savings Insurance (without added cost) - Democratic Control. For additional information contact:

WHAT SHOULD YOU PAY TO BORROW MONEY?

Credit union members say: shop for the lowest cost.

Credit unions never charge more than a penny a month for each dollar you still owe. That's only $6.50 for $100 repaid in 12 monthly installments. No extra charges. If you pay ahead, you save the extra interest.

Borrowing is easier at the credit union, where the members are the owners.

With few exceptions, your loan is "Paid in Full" in case of your death, and your savings are matched dollar for dollar with insurance provided by your credit union at no extra charge through CUNA Mutual, the credit union insurance company.

what happens to the money you put in the Credit Union?

The money you put in the credit union never stops growing. Loans are made to members for useful purposes, and the interest the borrowers pay is income for the credit union. This income is paid to you and the other shareholders as dividends, after expenses and reserves are deducted.

With few exceptions, your savings are matched dollar for dollar and in case of your death or permanent disability, your loan is "Paid in Full" with insurance provided by your credit union at no extra charge through CUNA Mutual, the credit union insurance company.

St. Albert boxers Paul Kane find going rough counts 1st hoop victory

Lonnie Eschuk, whose 55 pounds contain a fierce fighting heart, gave the St. Albert Boxing Club its sole moment of glory in the Bronze Gloves tournament at Breton on the weekend.

Eschuk pounded out a unanimous decision over Lambert Lindstrom of Fort McMurray on Saturday afternoon to become the first and only St. Albert boxer to collect a victory. He wasn't to remain in the winner's circle for long, however, as when he was back into the ring that night he was beaten by Randy Bauer of Breton.

Five other St. Albert fighters were entered in the competition. All lost their opening bouts.

Brian Hamper, fighting in the 50-pound division, dropped a split decision to Jimmy Knight of Breton. Gary Ferguson also lost on a split decision, Richard Cross of Hinton coming out the winner in the 85-pound division scrap.

The St. Albert corner threw in the towel in two of the losses.

They stopped the fight in the second round as Geoff Holden was being overpowered by Bobby Terrian of Hinton in the 80-pound division.

Larry Chyzik, holding a slight lead, got trapped in a corner in the third round against Danny Kirkoff of Taber in a 90-pound division battle and his handlers gave it up when he couldn't seem to fight his way out.

Rene Vallee lost out in the 115-pound division but club instructor Keith Wilson said he put up one of the better fights.

Allan Eschuk and Richard Vallee were not allowed to fight by the boxing association's doctor as they were running a slight fever.

Don House and Keith Mercet, who had won spots in the tournament, did not make the trip.

Paul Kane High School recorded its first victory in North Central Zone Basketball League action last week as the boys' team defeated Barrhead 35-27.

The girls, however, went down to their second straight defeat, dropping a 42-28 decision to their visitors from Barrhead.

Fort Saskatchewan girls went on an almost unbelievable rampage on their home court as they bounced Concordia 69-9. In the boys game it was a different story as Concordia won 50-42.

At Ardrossan, the home team won both games against Stony Plain. At Athabasca the games were split, Athabasca boys and Westlock girls picking up the victories.

St. Albert High and Salisbury were idle.

Credit Union makes strides over 5 years

In 1959 the St. Albert Savings and Credit Union Ltd., was re-opened with total assets of $29,000.

It operated on a part-time basis, two days a week, from an old building it owned on the outskirts of the downtown area.

Three years later it moved downtown, opening an office in the building on Perron Street now occupied by St. Albert Upholstery.

In the three years, however, the premises were about the only thing around the credit union that changed, its assets only totalled $30,000 and it still operated on a part-time basis, two days a week.

Things weren't going much better in 1963 when a bold decision was made. The directors hired a full-time manager, secretary-treasurer and threw the office open five days a week.

It is a move that has paid dividends even the most optimistic of directors couldn't have foreseen.

For from the time L. S. Alain walked through the door on Dec. 1, 1963, the credit union has grown by leaps and bounds.

The total assets jumped several thousand dollars the first month he was in the place and by the end of 1964, they had more than doubled, reaching $71,000. They had started climbing so fast that year, in fact, that the directors okayed the move into more accessible quarters in the Apex Building.

"I thought when I came here that I would have to go out and drum up business to get things going," says Mr. Alain, "but I never got a chance. They kept me busy right in the office."

And things haven't changed.

He now has an assistant, Mrs. Ruby Taylor, but the business they are now doing ($346,000 to the end of November) keeps them both going in the more spacious offices they occupied in the Perron Block a few months back.

"We could reach three-quarters of a million by the end of next year," speculates Mr. Alain, who was a Credit Union League representative for three years before joining the credit union here.

Some may think the target a little high, but a glance at back figures will show that nothing is impossible.

In 1965, the credit union had 418 active members with total assets of $119,000. In 1966, the figures were 514 and $185,000 and in 1967, 581 and $250,000.

The credit union offers several plans, which include share, term and straight deposits. There are also current and chequing accounts.

The share plan acts as insurance. If you put $500 in today and died tomorrow, you would collect $1,000. This holds true until age 55. After that it drops on a graduated scale to 75 cents on the dollar, then 50, then 25.

One-year term deposits pay six per cent. Straight deposits pay six per cent on the minimum monthly balance.

The credit union loans money at one per cent per month on the unpaid balance. At the end of November, it had $300,000 loaned out.

Albert Lesburg is president of the credit union and W. J. Veness is vice-president. Mrs. K. F. Ripley, N. J. Koch and Graham Blacklock are directors.

There are also supervisory and credit committees, with three members on each.

The credit union also offers counselling as service to its members.

"We can help them manage their finances," Mr. Alain said. "If they have a financial problem, we can usually help them along."

The St. Albert credit union is a member of the Credit Union Federation of Alberta and also the national association.

... a trainer for those who fight alcoholism?

People who want to help overcome the problem of alcoholism in their own communities can learn the most effective methods from Mrs. Dorothy Hesler. As a Community Services Consultant for the Division of Alcoholism, Alberta Department of Health, Mrs. Hesler assists in providing a training course especially designed for those who live outside major population centres. Five day seminars, conducted at Henwood, the Division of Alcoholism's new Rehabilitation Centre, train interested individuals in the development of the understanding and knowledge required in the treatment of alcoholism. The Training Course for Community Services is just one of the services in education research and treatment offered through clinics in Calgary, Edmonton and Red Deer by the Division of Alcoholism.

... an image-conscious economist?

John Clancy is one of ten economists who help promote Alberta's public image by demonstrating with facts and figures the province's continuing progress. The Alberta Bureau of Statistics, Department of Industry and Tourism, helps industries interested in establishing or expanding here by answering specific queries and doing market surveys on request. The branch, which has a total staff of 25, also prepares a number of exhaustive reference works on the province's industries and resources, including population, available free on request.

have you ever met...

... an elevator "steeplejack"?

Through their work, steeplejacks are responsible for the safe operation of elevators in the province. They are trained to install, maintain and repair elevators, and to ensure that they meet the highest standards of safety. This is a highly skilled and demanding job, and steeplejacks are essential to the safe operation of elevators in the province.

... a club council counsellor?

Among the most popular youth groups in Alberta today are the 4-H clubs, which provide a wide range of activities and opportunities for young people. These clubs are run by trained counsellors who help young people develop their leadership skills and learn about various aspects of life. The 4-H clubs are an important part of the youth program in Alberta, and they provide a safe and supportive environment for young people to learn and grow.

... an athletic standard raiser?

Swimming, diving, badminton, bowling, figure skating, these are just a few of the sports in which Mrs. Vicki McLennan is a programming expert. As one of the Athletic Consultants with the Recreation Branch, Alberta Department of Youth, her experience and knowledge are available to all communities in the province through Regional Recreation Consultants in Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge, Red Deer and Grande Prairie. These local consultants are prepared to offer advice and assistance on any aspect of recreation. When special programs are needed, they have the support of specialists in whatever sport is concerned. Coaching schools and leadership development courses are just two methods used by the Recreation Branch to raise the standards of athletic achievement in our province.

... a wind-reader?

Doug Gibbs checks the flow of air from exhaust vents with a velometer to ensure that the exchange of air inside industrial buildings is sufficient to prevent contaminants harming workers. Doug is a Senior Safety Supervisor in the Accident Prevention Department, Alberta Workmen's Compensation Board. He and 46 colleagues work to reduce the number of accidents in industry by it in a steel fabrication plant in Edmonton or Calgary or at a remote drilling rig in Alberta's far north. They advise employers and workers of safety measures, make regular on-site inspections to ensure safe working conditions, and investigate accidents to prevent the occurrence of similar mishaps. The Accident Prevention Department conducts a continuing publicity campaign to keep people safety conscious and also organizes courses in first aid for workmen in industry.

Do it yourself Christmas trimmings provide fun

The C.I.L. has sent along a dandy little booklet describing a host of home made Christmas decorations. Most of these are so simple, the youngsters can probably make them, with very little help. So clip this page, mom, and save it. School holidays are not that far off and it might just be the thing to involve your children in the preparations for their favorite family holiday.

Star light - star bright

A dab of glue and a squirt of spray quickly transform six ordinary paper drinking straws into glistening stars.

The first step is to make two equal-sided triangles. Each one will take three straws. The tips of the straws are bonded together with clear cement. Then one triangle is placed over the other, star-wise, and glued at the touching points. Once the glue is set, the star is ready for quick, all-round spraying with gold or silver "Cilux" spray. And to make it really twinkle sprinkle with glitter or sequins before the spraydries.

Size of stars may be varied by shortening the straws.

FARMER: (to new hired hand) "Where's that mule I told you to take out and have shot?"
NEW HAND: I thought you said shot! I've just been buryin' her."

Festive wreaths

A shimmering plastic wreath makes an ideal decoration for the front door, because it will withstand the weather in spite of its glamorous appearance. A wire coat hanger, plus a few plastic bags that dry-cleaning is delivered in, are the basic materials required.

First, shape the hanger into a circular hoop. Then cut strips of plastic about six inches long and two inches wide. Each strip is tied tightly to the wire hoop, sliding the knots closely together in order to make the wreath as bushy as possible. When the hoop is completely covered, spray the finished wreath lightly with silver, gold or green "Cilux" spray. It will dry in minutes. Then make a bow from weather proof, plastic ribbon and attach it to the top of the wreath where it will hide the hanger hook.

This wreath is easy to store and can be re-sprayed next year before it is hung again.

Sparkling candles

Glowing candles bring warmth to a room anytime, but adding glitter and lustre to their natural beauty gives them a special "party" look. You'll need a can of "Cilux" gold or silver spray, some glitter and short length of adhesive tape for the transformation. Attaching the tape to the candle's wick gives you something to hold while you are spraying the candle . . . and makes it easy to turn while you sprinkle it lightly with glitter. It will also come in handy to hang the candle on the table's edge until it dries. Or, if you will, once the spray is dry, pin dazzling sequins to the candle in an overall design. Common straight pins are best for this job. And glamorous as these candles are when you are finished, they'll still burn bright and long.

Party place mats

These simple to make place mats would be a perfect child's Christmas project. Coated vinyl fabric called "Fabri-Lite" is ideal to use. It can be bought by the yard in many colors and patterns. The fabric does not need hemming, so rectangles can be cut with either regular or plating sheers. To give them a really festive look, a holiday motif can be sprayed on in either gold or silver, using a stencil. Just draw the outline of a tree, bell or holly sprig on a cardboard, cut it out, and your stencil is ready to use as many times as you wish.

Foam globes

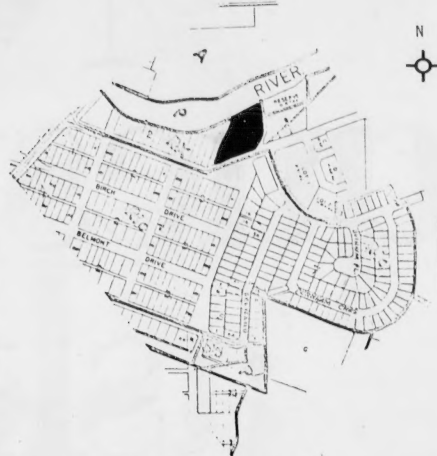

Plastic foam spheres, readily available in a variety of sizes at Christmas time, are a wonderful foundation for ornaments. They are light, unbreakable and have a "spongy" surface that is easy to pierce.

For a quick effect, dot a plastic ball here and there with C-I-L household cement, dip the ball in a saucer of glitter and it will instantly be transformed into a glistening globe. Or, encircle the ball in criss-cross fashion with narrow strips of brightly colored ribbon or braid, using pins to anchor the ribbon ends. For a truly opulent look, sequins, pearls and brilliantly colored beads can be pinned to the ball.

Morinville couple married 60 years

Two hundred relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Heemeryck gathered in Busby on Dec. 7th to honor the couple on their 60th wedding anniversary.

Relatives came from Red Deer, Rocky Mountain House, Airdrie and Taylor, B.C., to attend a buffet supper and dance and a special mass at which Father Rozmahel officiated.

Congratulatory messages were read from Queen Elizabeth, Prime Minister Trudeau, Lt.-Gov. Grant MacEwan, Premier Manning, Pope Paul and Mr. Heemeryck's brother, George, of Brussels, Belgium.

Mr. Heemeryck left Belgium in 1906. He went to Superior, Wis., working for a year there in the coal docks before moving to Alberta.

Mrs. Heemeryck had left Belgium in 1901 with her parents, who settled on a farm at Lamoureux, near Fort Saskatchewan.

On Dec. 9, 1908, Mr. Heemeryck and his chosen bride walked two miles, from the old Edmonton Hotel in the Ross Flats area to St. Joachim's Church on 110 Street and 99 Avenue, to be married. In 1910, Mr. Heemeryck worked on the railroad, building grade for the Grand Trunk Railway with ashovel and wheelbarrow.

In 1911 he fled on a homestead at Thorhild. He hauled coal during the winters of 1918 to 1922 and also hauled gravel to a stock pile for the piers of the High Level Bridge.

In 1947, Mr. and Mrs. Heemeryck moved to the Busby-Legal district, where they farmed until 1947 at which time they retired to Morinville.

They raised two daughters,

Margaret (Mrs. William Genereux of St. Albert) and Louise (Mrs. Marcel Perrault of Legal) and three sons, Joe of Edmonton, George of Busby, and Pete, who died in 1948. They have 18 grandchildren and 28 great grandchildren.

Vimy Column

Best wishes for a speedy recovery extended to Clem Provencal who was recently hospitalized.

Sincere sympathies are sent out to J. M. Gervais upon the loss of his sister Mrs. Therese Laquerre from Quebec.

Some 25 junior high school pupils attended the "Rallye Chorales" rehearsals at the Assumption Academy.

Alfred Fortier and Wilfrid Provencal attended the Social Credit Convention at the Jubilee Auditorium.

Congratulations are extended to Henry Bernard upon his receiving a trophy for 20 years of safe driving in the Westlock School Division. Safe driving awards were also presented to Marcel Barnard for 19 years of safe driving and also to Wilfrid Provencal for 17 years.

Centre with some 260 guests attending. Their son-in-law Bob Hamblin, was master of ceremonies. Their eldest son Charlie spoke for the members of the family and also recalled incidents that have taken place in the past 25 years.

Dolores and Rogelle Auger, Mrs. Jerry Labby and Mrs. Aline Rivard sang appropriate selections for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Mahe thanked everyone for attending and for their best wishes especially their children, Charlie, Lorraine, Marie-Rose, Danny, Laurier, their son and daughter-in-law, Bob and Laura.

Legal Locals

A turkey bingo sponsored by the Youth Club will be held on Dec. 15 at 8 p.m. Come and encourage our youth, and win yourself that Christmas Turkey.

The Legal Corner Cafe will still serve their Chinese Food Special on Saturday and Sunday Dec. 14 and 15 from 12 a.m. to 11 p.m. Take-out orders are also available phone 598-3886.

The members of the J.E.C. with the playschool children held their Christmas concert Sunday evening in the school gymnasium before a large audience. Corinne Bergevin and Joanne Prefontaine emceed the evening. A delightfully balanced program included piano and vocal solos, recitations and poems and group singing.

The efforts of the young entertainers drew warm applause from their audience who obviously enjoyed the concert thoroughly.

The School Christmas Concert will be held on Dec. 19 in the school auditorium.

The CWL will hold its monthly meeting on Dec. 16 at the Recreation Centre. The Christian Ladies Movement will also hold their meeting on Dec. 16.

Harrold wins Sturgeon seat

Jack Harrold has been elected councillor for Division 2 of the Municipal District of Sturgeon.

He polled 173 votes, defeating Roy Dick (150) and James Sharp (129).
